Eleven-year drought ends, as Rickie Fowler wins "The People's Open"

As if on cue, rain began to pour down, once Rickie Fowler, 30, of Murrieta CA, triumphantly raised his hands after winning the 2019 Waste Management Phoenix Open Presented by the Ak-Chin Indian Community on Sunday, February 3. He won at 17-under 267 for his fifth PGA Tour title.

It has taken Fowler, who is of Navajo descent, eleven years to capture this title. "I've wanted to win here for eleven years now, since I first came, since the Thunderbirds gave me a spot." Rickie shared after his win on Sunday.

He had come really close a few times over the years, but for some reason he just couldn't seem to make things right come Sunday.

But on Sunday, Rickie came in leading by 4 shots. He looked pretty good after the first few holes, then he had a couple of bad breaks including a double-bogey on No. 5 and a gut-wrenching triple bogey on No. 11, which actually took him out of the lead and chasing Branden Grace who was -15 after finishing up on No. 16, while Rickie was -14.

"It was definitely not fun out there" Fowler said. "Seems as soon as I kind of got something going, I would take a step or two back and had to kind of dig myself out of some holes."

Rickie did dig himself out on 15 with a birdie that would tie him with Grace. The fans on 16 must have given Fowler a good dose of loving, because he also made birdie on 17 to take back the lead. And when Grace hit the water on 17, Rickie kept to his game plan and continued to move forward, besting Grace by two.

For those who braved the rain on Sunday it was definitely a great day to be at the WMPO and an even better day if you were cheering for Rickie Fowler, which seemed like most of the fans that day did. None stood prouder than his dad and grandparents who were there to support him, as well as his fiancé Allison and her parents.

After the spectacular moment and downpour of rain, the clouds cleared just enough for Rickie to come back out and meet with the Thunderbirds to accept his winner's coat and trophy.

Afterwards he shared a few words about winning the WMPO. "It feels damn good! This is my eleventh open, so to finally get it done, I'm happy, everything else from here's gravy."

He also gave credit to his family for his demeanor of play, "I was brought up by my parents, my grandparents and the people I surround myself with, (I) realize life's a lot bigger than this... if I finished second, third, or fourth, the sun's gonna come out tomorrow, life's gonna go on."

Rickie Fowler will definitely have more sunny days ahead, especially with $1,278,000 pay out for his winnings.

The Waste Management Phoenix Open, which Ak-Chin has been a Presenting Sponsor for the last four years has really made its mark, not only in the community but the world of golf as well.

"The People's Open" is hands-down the best-attended golf tournament in the world and since 2016 has broken attendance records and gained notoriety for being the most unique stop on the PGA Tour.

The Ak-Chin Parks and Recreation department hosted its first annual Valentine's Chair Volleyball tournament on Saturday, February 9.

We had a total of 23 teams participate in both the elderly and family tournament, it was a great turn out. For the elderly tournament each participant received a shirt, personalized carnation flowers and breakfast burritos with coffee.

The Elderly kicked off the tournament first thing Saturday morning with the championship game ending at 1pm with Fort McDowell Firebirds taking home 1st place, Black Water Rabbits coming in a close 2nd and 3rd place went to Gila River Rebels 2.

The Family tournament started immediately after the elderly tournament; it was a fun-filled family event. The matches were close and the Antone Family went home with first place beating out the Carlyle Family, while the Miguel's came in third place.

All placing teams for both categories received different colored shirts.

"This was a great tournament, I had an opportunity to interact with all the elders and really enjoyed their enthusiasm and with several teams stating they appreciated the hospitality, the shirts, the beautiful flowers and looking forward to the next one." Parks and Recreation Director, Monica Rubio shared.

On another note we really enjoyed seeing all the families playing together and the kids having fun and being able to play with their families.

The gym was filled with the great sounds of fun and laughter. This is our department's goal; providing for our community an opportunity to enjoy the variety of sports programs that is inclusive to all ages.

"I want to thank all the staff and volunteers who helped make this a successful event and we appreciate your continued support." Rubio said

Elder's have fun at Valentine's Day celebration

Story and photos by J. Peters

After all the celebrating had come to an end, the group of Valentines gathered to take a photo together.

Lupe Kaniatobe was happy to win a prize in the raffle.

Hand stitched by the Him-Dak staff, these little hearts were gifts for the elders.

It's never too early to start celebrating a holiday and for the elders in the community they did just that! Gathering at the B.I.A. House on February 9th they were treated to an adorable Valentine tea party hosted by the Him-Dak Museum.

Decorating the historic B.I.A. house with cute hearts and bundles of fresh flowers, the department created a Valentine's atmosphere fitting for the occasion, engulfing the house with a pinkish reddish haze of color.

Elders had their choice of a variety of small heart shaped sandwiches, tea and lemonade that was set out for them to enjoy while mingling with one another. Him Dak knew it wouldn't be a celebration without sweets, so they also offered a huge amount of chocolate covered strawberries, candies and strawberry short cake to satisfy everyone's sweet tooth. Everyone who attended had a great time celebrating with friends and family.

O'Odham Tash back with new events

By HEATHER SMATHERS, PinalCentral.com

CASAGRANDE—O'Odham Tash is a time for local tribes to celebrate their shared heritage while honoring their unique differences.

Some new events will take place at the annual O'Odham Tash celebration this year, which will be held on Feb. 16 and 17.

Event coordinator Georgette Johnson said a traditional social Waila dance will be added this year.

The softball tournament had been a staple at the O'Odham Tash celebrations, and Johnson said she's excited to see it back. This year the tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, although should enough teams sign up, play might need to begin on Friday night. The double-elimination tournament is open to Native players but each team is allowed to have up to four non-Native people, two men and two women. Johnson said other events will be taking place simultaneously: the social powwow and Toka tournament.

The Toka tournament started just a few years ago as a regular event with the O'Odham Tash celebration, featuring a traditional Native American game. It is akin to a field hockey match; it is a team event with teams still being accepted. While spectators are welcome to watch the social powwow and traditional dancing, photographs are only permitted with permission.

Vendors, including artists and craftsmen, will be on hand with their wares and different food vendors selling traditional Native fare, Johnson said.

On Saturday night, a concert featuring Native Creed will take place. The concert will begin at 6:30 p.m. It is family-friendly, and children under 10 can attend the concert for free. Adults will pay $10 per person at the gate.

Kevin Juan, who is helping Johnson coordinate several O'Odham Tash events this year, said all of the events are open to families and no drugs or alcohol are permitted at any of the events.

"We want to show the next generations our traditions and history," he said. "When we go to these events, no matter where we're from, we're all family."

To have a booth at the event, contact Johnson at 520-221-5368. To sign up a team for the softball tournament, call Serena Johnson at 520-993-6563.

O'Odham Tash Rodeo draws top-notch cowboys

By MARLA VASQUEZ, PinalCentral.com

CASA GRANDE — Spectators should expect two jam-packed days at the O'Odham Tash Rodeo. "The public can come out to watch the best that Indian rodeo has to offer," rodeo secretary Penny Mix said.

Contestants from the Indian National Finals Rodeo and the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association along with amateurs will be competing in different events from bull riding to calf roping and bareback riding.

In the wild horse race, teams made up of three members will attempt to catch, saddle and ride a wild mustang. There will also be a roping competition that will bring together the four sister tribes of the area.

According to Mix, in order to participate the contestant must be a member of the Tohono O'odham Nation, Ak-Chin, Gila River or Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian communities. There are roughly 10 to 30 contestants per event, with the largest being the team roping and the women's breakaway roping.

This year the rodeo will re-introduce bareback riding. Other events include saddle bronc and tie-down roping. Buckles will be awarded to each event winner.

The O'Odham Tash Rodeo is scheduled to start at 1 p.m. on Feb. 16 and 17 at Ed Hooper Rodeo Park. Admission is $15, children 12 and under enter for free.

January Community Meeting focuses on new and completed projects

Story by R. Peters

On Monday, January 28, 2019, about a dozen community members gathered to hear the latest updates and share concerns during the January Community meeting.

Chairman Robert Miguel led the meeting, accompanied by Councilmembers Delia Carlyle and Lisa Garcia. After opening remarks, Community Operations Manager Bart Smith provided his monthly updates.

Bart informed membership of the ongoing and new construction that is currently taking place around the Community; to include a new bay area and parking lot at Sanitation-Public Works; road construction between Ak-Chin Recreation facility and Milton "Paul" Antone Memorial park, pool renovation and construction of a new park for the farms area; a new modular for cultural and education programs; Him Dak erosion repairs in their amphitheater and a face lift for the little bus station across the street from the old court house.

Bart also talked about the new housing projects slated to begin this year that will include the remodel of three identified community homes which will be designed similar to the homes that will be built in the new housing subdivision, along with the new community administration building, designated southwest of the justice complex, diagonal to the education and library building. Bart stated, "it's in design stage right now (and) we're hoping to get that to P&Z in the next couple months."

He shared that once the roads and infrastructure are completed, the Community plans to build 75 homes in the area over a period of time, with the first 20 to begin construction sometime in 2020.

Bart also shared new improvements scheduled at Ak-Chin Circle to include lighting along the pathways at Farrell and 347, the installation of flags representing all Arizona tribes to be placed at the roundabout, as well as flagstone replacements at Southern Dunes and installation of an electric car charging station. He then mentioned a feasibility study being conducted on a best location for a proposed new hotel and truck stop - convenience store.

Bart finished his updates with reminders about upcoming events; the Waste Management Phoenix Open, ceramics classes and the January Community Gathering at the Him Dak, Recreation chair volleyball and softball tournaments, Health Education's Valentine's 5K, and family paint night at the Library.

Judy Purcell, Capital Projects Manager was invited up next to discuss the casino expansion project. Although Judy was unable to share the wonderful PowerPoint she and Sundt-Yates representative had prepared, she was still able to provide a vivid history and photos of the casino expansion; beginning with the initial signing of contracts back in 2015, as well as the long journey and great things that happened along the way.

He spent most of his time answering questions from attendees who asked about clay gathering, mentoring young artists and his clay pot firing techniques.

After his presentation, and during the raffling of door prizes, he invited the audience to get a closer look at his display of recent work and tools he uses.

Ron shared that creating the pots has provided him with a financial source of income in addition to Hosting a Culture Day, Leading Edge Academy classes shared displays of world cultures. The school also had dance groups share during an assembly.

The San Juan dance group was one of them invited. Instead of taking members of the group out of their schools, Ak-Chin Chairman Robert Miguel and daughter Stella shared different dances, inviting students and teachers to the stage to participate. Outside, members of the San Juan Church made popovers for sale. Students and teachers stood in line for the opportunity to get a popover with powdered sugar or

In addition to their exploration of the animals the children also got to hitch a ride on the carousel before heading back home to share the new adventure with their family.

JOM Parent Committee meets, discusses future

The school year is not even over yet but the Ak-Chin Johnson O'Malley Committee is already looking to the next school year in providing services to Ak-Chin students. Meeting at the Ak-Chin Justice Complex on Tuesday evening, February 5, the committee discussed current budget allocations to Community students, improvements that can be made to the backpack distribution and committee plans for participation in the annual National JOM Association Conference.

Led by Ak-Chin JOM Committee Chairperson Deidra Carlyle, the group

reviewed last year's activities which included the annual school backpack giveaway last summer. While there was some confusion from parents about who is eligible to receive a JOM backpack, the committee is looking to coordinate how they are distributed and having information provided by parents verified in advance to avoid delays and long lines.

At this time, JOM backpack distributions are for Ak-Chin member enrolled students who reside in the Community/school district. Understanding parents/guardians work during the day, the committee is looking to find suitable dates to distribute the backpacks in the evening.

The committee also discussed sending several committee members to the National JOM Association Conference next month. It will be held at Harrah's Las Vegas Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas from March 4 - 6, 2019.

Parents of Ak-Chin member students are invited to attend and participate in the meetings. Please contact Deidra at (520)568-1012.

lot; the tours with tribal council and the City of Maricopa officials as well as the numerous tours and walkthroughs with integral parties, like the art design group, comprised of several community member-employees.

Judy shared how the group was "looking into how we were going to bring some culture into this" she said adding, "there were many meetings and hours on how to build a mesquite tree at the front desk area."

She also talked about bringing a "wow feature" to the grand entrance. "From day one it was how are we going to make this entrance grand and bring in some of the culture."

That moment turned into the magnificent features we now see in the hotel lobby entrance; saguaro leaves, a basket weave design and an array of colors to represent the sunrise-sunset all surrounding a larger than life cat's claw light fixture that hangs down from the ceiling, "I think that piece just turned out gorgeous" Judy said.

Judy was very excited about the tour with the elders, the artwork in the Chop, Block and Brew restaurant, and the idea behind the bridge connecting Harrah's to UltraStar.

One feature she was adamant about making sure was given to the Community to decide upon was the promenade wall from the parking garage that features the history of Ak-Chin, its veterans and artwork from community children.

She also talked about all the hard work put in behind the scenes; from the Ak-Chin Fire department conducting walkthroughs to ensure safety, to the Harrah's team working day and night to create a functional temporary gaming facility without missing a beat on the construction of the new events center.

She then shared her appreciation to all the contractors and sub-contractors who brought in jobs and recruited over 350 professional workers, "this was an ongoing enterprise... these guys kept their professionalism out there while working with our guests" she said, praising them for having zero incidents of acting unprofessional or rude.

Judy remembers when the elders toured the spa area, "And one of the coolest things that I was able to have happen to me is this moment in this room with the elders looking out and just talking about all the history of the community - it was very touching - really cool moments."

Lastly, Judy informed meeting attendees that the resort rooms would be turned over to the operator by March 29, at which time the pool will also be open, and that Agave's patio/restaurant/kitchen work will begin on March 25, with completion guessed to be at about 3-6 months.

After Judy concluded her presentation, Chairman Miguel reminded everyone about the dinner options in the back of the room and once it was considered a members-only crowd he and Councilmembers present provided their Council updates.

Updates were shared on: Harrah's ballroom events center; Masik Tas 2018; Government Shut-down discussions; sports-off track betting and keno; current gaming compact initiatives; legislative dinner, Maricopa Economic Development Association meeting; Navajo Nation Inauguration; Tribal Legislative Day; inaugural tribal border summit; office changes for council; AIGA concerns and meeting with Havasupai Council; community vehicle auction; WMPO participation; ITCA meeting with ANA; Tohono O'odham and Mul-Chu Tha parade and events; budget meetings; self-governance issues; water issues; PBR and MMA events; capital project updates; director's and department meetings; boards-committees-commission by-laws and meetings; town of Guadalupe firetruck presentation; El Paso natural gas pipeline tour; member recognition; social security benefits for councilmembers; and a Four-tribes working group session.

The next Community Meeting is Monday, February 25, 6 pm at the Ak-Chin Service Center.

Ak-Chin and Tohono O'odham provide new fire truck for Town of Guadalupe

On Wednesday, January 30th, Ak-Chin Tribal Council along with members of the Tohono O'odham Nation Tribal Council met with Town of Guadalupe officials to participate in a ribbon cutting ceremony to celebrate the acquisition of a new fire truck for Guadalupe Fire Department.

The 2018 Typhoon Pumper was funded in part by The Ak-Chin Indian Community and the Tohono O'odham Nation, through their twelve-percent gaming revenues.

Thunderbird Volunteer Fire District Fundrasier

On Saturday, February 2, 2019, Thunderbird Volunteer Fire District held their first annual steak dinner, to raise money for the purchase of new equipment and for repairs to the Thunderbird Community building that is used as their fire station.

Tickets were $25.00 per plate for a delicious one-pound rib eye steak, baked potato with butter and sour cream, and a garden salad. The Community building is small, so reservations were set at 20-minute intervals to ensure enough seating would be available for the attendees. Over 60 tickets were sold prior to the dinner and another 25 tickets were sold that night to hungry walk-ins. Raffle tickets were sold, as well, for two gift baskets, a socket and wrench set, and a new putter.

After deducting the purchase of food and supplies, Thunderbird Volunteer Fire District was able to deposit $1,990.00 towards new equipment and building repairs.

Thunderbird Volunteer Fire District would like to thank the following for their generous donations of time, prizes and money that helped make this event a success:

Ace Hardware Maricopa
Santa Rosa Cooling
T&K Contracting
Tom Dugan
Harrah's Ak-Chin Casino

UltraStar Entertainment Center
Construction Tool and Supply
O'Reilly Auto Parts
Thunderbird Volunteer Firefighters and their families

TVFD would like to give special thanks to Harrah's Chief Collin for his assistance in planning the dinner and for his generous donation of time and expertise grilling the steaks; to Clayton Antone for his skills as a DJ, providing music for the evening; and to the Ak-Chin Runner for printing flyers and tickets. Last, but not least, a big thank you to Fry's Foods for putting steaks on sale at just the right time!

Third Annual Copa Shorts Film Festival Features 46 Film Projects, Two Locations in City of Maricopa

(Maricopa, Ariz.—January 30, 2019) The third annual Copa Shorts Film Festival (CSFF) scheduled for Feb.23-24, features a total of 46 short films and screenplays that will be shown at two locations in Maricopa.

Out of the 46 screenplay and films being shown, 12 of them include projects from Arizona residents, including the City of Maricopa.

Themes for this year's films include:

- Technology and how it interferes with family
- Loneliness and yearning for acceptance and connection
- Love and kindness
- The DACA experience
- School challenges from bullying to peer pressure

The first day of the event, Feb. 23, will take place at Maricopa High School beginning at 10 a.m. and will host three free workshops presented by filmmaking professionals, including members of the Arizona Production Association, designed to educate filmmakers on funding, special effects make-up, and music film scoring for upcoming projects. The workshops are open to any community members to attend. Pre-registration is required at Eventbrite.

Following the workshops, will be a feature of projects completed by middle school and high school students from California, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Texas and Arizona, including Maricopa, as well as two foreign countries.

The second day of the event, Feb. 24, is Oscar-themed and will be held at Maricopa City Hall. These films are college projects and adult drama, documentaries, comedies, Sci-Fi, animation, military veteran films, Native American stories and other short films submitted by filmmakers from around the world.

Films on Sunday hail from across the globe from Scotland to Australia with many Arizona entries, as well as films from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Florida, Wisconsin, Colorado, California and Washington.

The festival will conclude with an awards party with music by award-winning musician Beth Lederman, mingling and the chance to meet other professionals in the industry. As a resource to filmmakers, Matthew Earl Jones (Sunday) and Ramsay Wharton (Saturday) from the Arizona Department of Film and Digital Media will attend the awards ceremonies and parties.

"One of our submissions is from a Phoenix resident who created both a screenplay and a film that was developed from the screenplay, which was shot in Paris," said Shelley Gillespie, founder and executive director of the CSFF. "These are being showcased with a table read of the screenplay acted out by high school actors. It's exciting to include these elements which show how a film evolves. A first at our festival – and almost any festival!"

"We have a lot of involvement from students," said Gillespie. "Maricopa High School DECA members and National Honor Society members are volunteering at the event, and students from Poston Butte High School in San Tan Valley are assembling film blocks from the diverse projects submitted from around the world."

Shelley and her husband, Roger, began the film festival as a result of a monthly film group that they developed almost four years ago. The Gillespies moved to Maricopa in 2003 and are active in Maricopa government, serving on the City of Maricopa Arts Committee (Shelley) and the Transportation Committee (Roger).

The event is open to the public and both locations will feature food trucks from around the Phoenix area, including the Lemongrass Shack Cambodian street food, Grandma's Navajo Fry Bread, La Petite Provence French pastries, and When Pigs Fly.

Tickets are on sale now: www.copashortsfilmfest.org.

Desert Vista High School wrestler Hunter Louis competes at state

Hunter Louis ( in gold ) during his match in the State Division I tournament in Prescott on Friday, February 8.

How can you have four members of a wrestling team win individual state champion status but not take home the title? For Desert Vista High School in Ahwatukee, they saw Liberty High School have eleven wrestlers place but no individual state champions, compared to Desert Vista's seven giving Liberty this year's AIA State Division I Championship title on Saturday, February 9 in Prescott. Desert Vista was Runner-up.

Ak-Chin student and senior Hunter Louis was a part of the DV Thunder team competing in the 182-weight class. His year has been challenging and rewarding. With a high school wrestling career working through junior varsity and different competition weights, Hunter moved from the 220lb to 172lb weight classes. He made it to the State Wrestling competition in the 182 division.

His family was on hand to cheer him on but he lost his match on Friday afternoon, February 8. Prior to state, his family was also there to support Hunter during Senior Night at a regular home match at Desert Vista.

Nicholas Anderson finishes season as Chandler High School wrestler

Wrestling is a sport that requires flexibility, mental toughness and perseverance. Ak-Chin student Nicholas Anderson has challenged himself to participate at the high school level. A sophomore at Chandler High School, Nicholas has wrestling for two years, both at the Junior Varsity and Varsity levels.

"I went to a practice freshman year, liked the challenge and stuck with it," he shares on what interested in him wrestling.

Match-ups with opponents are based on weight, with weigh-ins held prior to a match. Nicholas has competed in the 172 and 184 weight classes. He's able to maintain his required weight but can be tough "mostly around the holiday season," he said.

To prepare for a match Nicholas has some pre-rituals. "I clear my head and get aggressive, do a warm up and do a couple of sprints before my match," he said.

The day the Runner was at a home game, he jogged with his teammates around the mat and did flips to stretch out.

Reflecting back on his past matches, Nicholas feels he did, "really well this season, I worked on staying focused and wrestling smart and that really helped me win matches," he said.

He also looked to his family and coaches for their mentorship and being positive role models for him. With the season over, focus continues on his studies and hobbies. When not in school, he enjoys playing guitar and hanging out with friends.

On the morning of February 9th community members woke up to a chilly overcast morning, the perfect weather for the Ak-Chin Health Education's 5th Annual Valentine's Day 5k.

Many people showed up at the Ak-Chin Service Center to enjoy a nice brisk run/walk through the west side of the Ak-Chin village. As they trekked along the farm fields and pecan trees many made their way through the route without having to worry about the unbearable heat. Once everyone crossed the finish line, there was a breakfast of yummy pancakes with toppings, scrambled eggs and fresh fruits to greet them.

Dezigual band brings cumbias to Luxe Lounge

Described as Mexico's version of Kumbia Kings, the group Dezigual may be new to Ak-Chin audiences. But after numerous performances in Southern Arizona, including stops at the Tohono O'odham Nation Fair and Rodeo and UltraStar's Luxe Lounge, you will come to know them simply as DZGL.

From Monterrey, Mexico, their music is mainly cumbias, but features music that is up-tempo, filled with a wide range of musical instruments and band dance moves. Their Friday, February 1 visit to UltraStar filled Luxe Lounge with their beats heard in the downstairs lobby.

Formed in 2013, the twelve-member band is all from Mexico, with one band member from Venezuela. Performing in Mexico, the group earned notice from Texas audiences eventually being invited by Tejano event organizers in Texas and Las Vegas.

They have released various music projects beginning with "Primer Acto," and features their number one single, "Las hijas de Don Simon." In addition to their own music, the group shared Tejano classics such as La Tropa F's "Juan Sabor," "Te Vi Patir," "Como Tú," and "Si lo Quieres" during their Ak-Chin show.

The band has several singers who each took turns singing. With drums, guitar, bass, keyboards, the group features a five-piece horn section. They also wore matching colorful jerseys. The group's stage clothes are made by their exclusive clothes designer.

Dezigual performs in the Luxe Lounge on Friday, February 1.

Ak-Chin Chairman Robert Miguel was on hand to welcome the group who performed a 9:00 pm show that was free to the public. "This is actually their first major tour of the United States," he shared. The group was scheduled to perform at the Tohono O'odham Fair on Saturday, February 3 opening for Michael Salgado, and asked if they could stop in Ak-Chin before that show.

Also performing that night was Emily Flores, better known as the #1 Selena impersonator in Arizona. She recently performed at the Quintanilla family's Fiesta Del La Flor, a two-day festival that celebrates the life of slain Tejano singer Selena Quintanilla-Perez.

After their performances, DZGL and Emily did a meet and greet with Luxe Lounge guests. If you missed the show, visit their social media page for music videos and show information. They have plans to visit Casino del Sol in Tucson on Saturday, February 16.

Tohono O'odham Nation's 81st Annual Rodeo & Fair moments...

The Miss San Simon royalty parade entry includes waila wellness health tips.

Ak-Chin Chairman Robert Miguel walks the Tohono O'odham Nation parade route wearing New England Patriot's tight end Rob Gronkowski's jersey a day before the Big Game.

Ak-Chin Vice-Chairman Gabriel Lopez hands out youth oriented promotional items along the parade route on Saturday, February 2 in downtown Sells.

The parade also officially introduced the new First Attendant to Miss Tohono O'odham Nation Sophia Stevens. Given her new role prior to the parade, she replaces Tierra Domingo who stepped down unexpectedly. Sophia will serve alongside the newly crowned Miss Tohono O'odham Nation Maria Pablo.

Ak-Chin member Dyami Jackson was also in the parade, singing with his godfather Leland Thomas, they provided the songs for the Keli Akimel Hua Modk Cudkdam dance group. Their parade entry won second place in their division.

After the parade, most headed to the fairgrounds. The first ever INFR sanctioned rodeo took place. Ak-Chin Council took in the activities meeting up with other tribal leaders. Ak-Chin member Wilson "Milo" Antone, who is a member of waila band Pick-Up Kings, participated in this year's Championship Battle of the Bands. The group went on to win second place. Thee Express took the championship honors.

At the entertainment stage, Ak-Chin members were seen dancing to the Tejano rhythms of Michael Salgado and even got to meet the entertainer.

This year's event had something for everyone, including beautiful desert scenes. On state route 85 several washes had colorful poppies. Normally a spring flower, they arrived early to welcome fair guests.

Ak-Chin Council members Octavio Machado and Delia Carlyle run into Tohono O'odham Legislative Council member Vivian Juan-Saunders and Gila River Governor Stephen Roe Lewis while having lunch at the T.O. fairgrounds.

2019 Waste Management Phoenix Open Highlights...

celebrated 84 years of play. It is one of the five oldest events on the PGA TOUR and the 10th as the Waste Management Phoenix Open.

Wednesday's Annexus Pro-Am, brought many big-name sports superstars like Emmitt Smith, Jason Kidd, Michael Phelps and Archie Bradley. All teamed up with PGA's brightest Pros and amateur golfers for the star-studded pro-am tournament. Then there's the Phoenix Suns Charities Shot at Glory, a closest to the pin contest for a chance at $1 million for charity at the famed 16th hole.

Thursday and Friday easily scored record numbers again, along with gorgeous Arizona weather. Fowler was on everyone's radar both days as he brought in good numbers to set the stage for Sunday. Unfortunately, fan favorite Phil Mickelson, an ASU alum, did not make the final cut to move on to Saturday's round.

During Saturday's third round, players, caddies, fans and volunteers are encouraged to "Greenout" in support of Waste Management's sustainability initiative, which has become the largest zero-waste event in the world.

Saturday was also the "Race to 16" where fans lined up as early as 430am to run the half mile distance to the par-3 16th hole and a chance for a general admission in the greenside grandstands.

If they were lucky enough to get a seat, they would also be treated to a free breakfast, live DJ, Breakfast Club tee shirts and other fun prizes. Not to mention the opportunity to cheer in the only fully-enclosed hole on the PGA tour, better known as the Coliseum.

Also on 16, a plaque was set up to honor all those who have aced 16, including the late PGA TOUR professional Jarrod Lyle who passed away last August at the age of 36 after multiple bouts with leukemia.

Johnny Miller, a two-time winner of the Phoenix Open and 25-time PGA Tour winner-turned-NBC broadcaster was recognized by the Phoenix Thunderbirds during his last broadcast on Saturday February 2.
