Story and photos submitted by Richard Lopez

Dallyss Peters shows off her graduation certificate during the Ak-Chin Child Development Preschool Graduation Parade with congratulations by Teacher, Francine Sanchez.

On June 17, 2020, Ak-Chin Child Development held a Graduation parade for this year’s graduates. There were 28 graduates in total this year.

Thanks to the dedicated teachers, staff and support of the Community Council, the Ak-Chin Child Development was able to do their Preschool Graduation by Parade.

The parade started in the parking lot of the preschool where they had designated parking spots for the young students who reside outside of the community. The parade then continued on through the housing divisions in the Community.

Potato harvesting season for Ak-Chin Farms

Story and photos by C. Picciuolo

A John Deere 8245 R tractor uses a Spudnik potato harvester to cultivate varieties onto a truck that brings to the potatoes to the potato shed for processing.

During the week of May 18, 2020, the Runner caught up with Ak-Chin Farms and followed Farm Manager Steve Coester as he showed us the process of harvesting potatoes.

This year, 920 acres of Ak-Chin Farm land are dedicated to potatoes, with a contract for 37 million pounds to produce.

Having been planted in January, around 700 semis will haul truckloads of potatoes out of the Community during the whole season, and the Farms will be harvesting until right after July 4.

Ak-Chin Farms grows four different varieties: Atlantic, lamoka, Frito Lay 1867, and Frito Lay 2395. Atlantic and lamoka are publicly-available seeds, while the Frito Lay varieties can only go to Frito Lay.

Atlantic is a short season variety and takes around 90 days to harvest while lamoka is a long season variety. Both are planted around the same time, but lamoka takes longer to mature so they’re harvested last. Other varieties can take 110 or 130 days to harvest, with the Frito Lay varieties being medium season. A combination of lamoka and Atlantic varieties will end up at Poore Brothers for their potato chips.

Our tour started at the potato shed, where Coester showed us the sorters and washers and how the potatoes end up on the truck beds. This process was fascinating as essentially one large machine takes the potatoes from the load to conveyor belts which lead to a maze of flowing water to rinse the dirt.

From there, the potatoes get

COVID-19 in the Community

Hello Ak-Chin,

I’d like to begin by thanking each and every one of you, our Membership, for continuing to practice social distancing, staying safe and healthy and abiding by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and Ak-Chin Community guidelines set forth during this time of the Corona Virus Pandemic.

Together we will continue to practice these guidelines and take every precaution to stay safe during the duration of this pandemic.

We encourage each and every one of you to continue to; wear your face masks at all times if possible, in particular when you are outside of your home. We would also like to request that you limit your place of togetherness just to a couple of people.

At this time, I would like to report that the Community has encountered its first couple of cases of the Corona Virus Pandemic. To date we do have a couple of individual cases that have tested positive, these individuals are currently self-quarantined and are taking every precaution and medical advice to deal with their illness.

Notices have been sent to the membership on the identified cases that have been in the community. This notice continues to address the importance and need to stay safe and healthy, to practice all procedures, policies and guidelines that are set in place. So please abide by these practices during this time.

We ask that you continue to respect the privacy of these individuals who have been affected and their families as they deal with this. Together, through their strength and love and the Community’s support we will overcome this pandemic. Continued prayers for those affected, and to all our Community membership and their families.

Southern Dunes course gets aerification treatment

Story by C. Picciuolo, Photo submitted by Southern Dunes

Ak-Chin Southern Dunes Golf Club just completed their aerification process across the entire course.

You're probably wondering what exactly the aerification, or aeration, process is and how it benefits the course. Lucky for you, Golf Course Superintendent at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes, Wes Haner, is an expert on the topic.

According to Haner, the aerification process is the manual removal of soil. This is done using hollow pipe-like metal pegs called "hollow tines," which go into the ground and are connected to the walk aerifier. The hollow tine is not like a solid tine, which is shaped more like a pencil, and is used for less invasive groundskeeping methods.

The hollow tines pull out "plugs" of dirt, and are then cleaned off of each green. Fresh USGA sand is then applied to the greens and is smoothed out. The fresh sand is then watered in. This is done to encourage and maintain plant health.

Plant roots absorb O2, and release CO2. The aerification process allows the plant to do so more efficiently. While this may seem like an inconvenience to golfers, it is one of the most important cultural practices we do. Some side benefits are the removal of old organic material, as well as relief from compaction.

"I like to think of aerification as a spa day for the greens. They go through it a few times a year and always feel refreshed and healthier afterwards," says Haner.

At Southern Dunes, aerification is done in late spring and throughout the summer. It takes two days to complete the process on all 27 of the greens, which include the 18-hole championship course, putting green, chipping green, teaching green, and six #minidunes greens.

The greens are aerified the most often, preferably three times a year; but the whole course, including tees, fairways, approaches and roughs will be aerified at least once throughout the summer.

Southern Dunes staff use a Toro 648 walk aerifier for the process. The machine is four feet wide and has to be walked from green to green.

This time, Ak-Chin resident Kevin "Ace" Delowe operated the aerifier over the course of two days. Ace aerified 27 greens and walked over 40,000 steps, which is a little over 20 miles.

The aerification process is similar in all climates. However, areas with cool weather grass aerify in the spring and fall as opposed to the summer.

When the course is aerified, there is a temporary disruption in the playability of the course. The course is closed three different times during the summer for two days while Southern Dunes aerifies the greens. The process is very difficult to accomplish with golfers on the course no matter where the process takes place, and nearly impossible when greens are being done.

That being said, Haner says, "a large part of our goal is to complete the aerification process with as little impact on the playing conditions of the greens as we can. Usually it takes 7-10 days to fully recover, depending on weather conditions."

Haner wants to let the Community especially know that, "This, along with everything we do, would not be successful without our amazing staff. The maintenance crew at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes are among the best in the state. Their experience, attention to detail, and the pride they show in their work really stands out during aerification. A big thank you for a job well done goes out to them!"

Wes Haner was just recently promoted to the Head Superintendent position at ACSD. He was an internal promotion from the 1st Assistant Superintendent position. He started in his new role on Feb. 29, a leap day. He has been at the property for 9 years and started as a crewmember on the grounds crew and worked his way up through the ranks, including finishing an Agronomy degree on his own time from Penn State (online).

General Manager at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes, Brady Wilson, says, "We are very proud that Wes is now leading our Agronomy and Golf Maintenance department. No one knows the ins and outs of this property better than him!"

Arroyo Grille holds Orin Swift wine dinner

Orin Swift Wine is poured into glasses during the wine dinner in which Chef Neil expertly paired five courses with a different wine.

On June 13, Arroyo Grille at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes Golf Club presented a five-course wine dinner event featuring pairings with varieties of Orin Swift wine from California's Napa Valley.

Chef Neil expertly paired the five courses, which served 30 guests who were well spaced-out and equipped with hand sanitizer, following CDC and Arizona Department of Health state-recommended guidelines.

The first course was a "flat fish," a coriander-dusted halibut with braised fennel and lemon gnocchi, and was paired with a 2018 Blank Stare Sauvignon Blanc.

Course two was a "spring chicken," a roasted Cornish game hen breast and spring vegetable succotash, which was paired with a 2017 Mannequin Chardonnay.

"Big Eye" was the third course, which was a seared ahi tuna with haricot verts, hard egg, potato confit, kalamata olives and cherry tomato, and paired with a 2018 Slander Pino Noir.

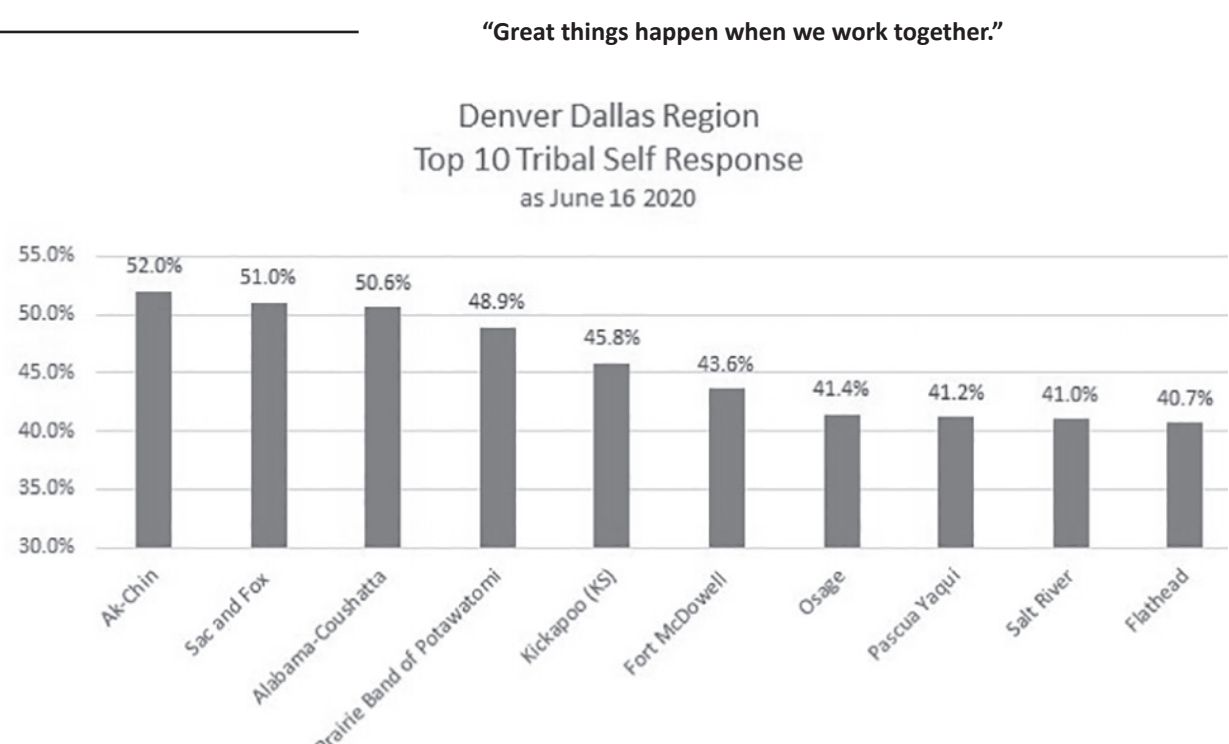

The fourth course was "Wapiti," with roasted elk, sweet potato mash, broccolini, apple cranberry chutney, and paired with a 2017 Papillon Bordeaux Blend.

Rounding out the dinner was "Baked Berries," which featured a buckle of blueberry, blackberry, raspberry, cherry, maple syrup, and vanilla ice cream, and was paired with a 2018 8 Years in the Desert Zinfandel Blend.

Orin Swift wines were available for discounted purchase during the event. Arroyo Grille is tentatively planning another event for July 25, with more details to come soon.

Youth attend new hire orientation at Harrah's

Ten new hires pose at Harrah's Ak-Chin Casino.

On Monday, June 15, Ak-Chin Indian Community youth aged 16-18 attended the Harrah's Ak-Chin Summer Youth Work Program new hire orientation after making it through the career open house the previous week. During the career open house, 13 youth attended, and by orientation, 10 started their first day.

After being encouraged the previous week during the open house by HDS Intern Christopher Pablo, who shared words on his experience starting out as a summer youth worker and working his way up into the HDS Program, the new hires began to prepare for their roles within the casino.

The Summer Work Program is an extension of the Harrah's Development System (HDS) Program which is a leadership training program offered to qualified tribal members. The summer youth program exposes the participants to career opportunities within the casino.

All new hires attend new hire orientation prior to actually starting in their departments, providing guidance to ensure a smooth transition into the workplace. During New Hire Orientation, the summer youth were introduced to the company's Mission, Vision and Values and Customer Service Standards.

In addition to on the job work experience, the summer youth will participate in workshops to help in their personal development. Resume writing, interviewing techniques, communication and public speaking, are several experiences in which the summer youth participants will be exposed to during their time in the summer work program. Participants also attend Toastmasters meetings which provides a positive learning experience, empowering individuals to develop their communication and leadership skills. The new hires are as follows:

- Laila Gardner, Steward
- Kateri Lopez, Steward
- Doria Garcia, Bell Person
- Jesus Corella, Jr., House Person
- Marie Antone, House Person
- Derek Manuel, Guest Room Attendant
- Zaida Soliz, Guest Room Attendant
- Celiyah Antone, Guest Room Attendant
- Noahli Antone, Cook
- Xendryk Silas-Antone, Cook

"Although this year's summer youth work program is shorter than what we've had in the past, we, the leaders at Harrah's Ak-Chin, wanted to still be able to provide the youth with exposure to the back-of-house work experience while helping them to adjust to the 'new norm' of social distancing in a COVID-19 conscious environment," said HDS Supervisor Erica Manuel. "All youth participants will be trained in the updated COVID-19 sanitation and social distancing protocols within their selected departments."
